To whom it may concern:

Exploration School is hiring teachers for our academic summer enrichment program on the campuses of Yale University, Wellesley College, and Wheaton College. Specifically, we are seeking college sophomores through recent graduates eager for the challenge of teaching our Computer Science summer enrichment courses and workshops. Please see the following for additional details.

General Information

EXPLO — a world-wide leader in summer academic enrichment — is seeking highly motivated and creative individuals to be Instructors and Residential Advisors serving students ages 9 - 17 for the summer of 2018 (June 18, 2018 - August 5, 2018). We offer a full curriculum of hands-on, project based courses, workshops, activities, and trips. Instructors work with other college and graduate students supervised by young professionals to inspire a younger generation of students in fields ranging from studio and performance arts to social sciences, math, and international development. In addition to teaching, EXPLO Instructor-RAs must live on campus and serve as campus and student mentors, activity and trip leaders.

The Teaching Experience at Exploration

EXPLO provides Instructors with a unique opportunity to co-develop and then to teach academic courses and workshops in their major field of study or in areas of strong personal interest. With guidance from our Curriculum Department, Instructors design detailed curriculum plans for their courses and workshops during the winter and spring.

Additional Information

It is important for applicants to understand that the Instructor position is a three-part job at EXPLO: teacher, advisor, and leader. On a typical day, an Instructor will spend approximately 3 hours teaching in a classroom setting and the rest of the day and evening supervising all aspects of student life: from helping students bus meals in the cafeteria to leading afternoon activities, taking attendance at check-in and living group events, and chaperoning an evening event. Whatever students are involved in at EXPLO, our Instructors are involved in, too – helping to ensure that every moment of the day can be a learning moment and, most importantly, that every child is safe; physically, intellectually, and emotionally.

If interested, additional information — including the salary ranges, program dates, and staff application — are available at hiring.explo.org.
