

python

Do you know Python Coding and want to make some extra cash?

I am looking for someone to tutor my son in Python. He is currently a sophomore at Bay Path Vocational Technical High School. He entered the programming/web design shop this year so he missed 5 months of last year's classes and is falling behind. I would like to find someone who can spend one – two hours per week working on beginner Python skills. I can supply you with the topics he needs assistance with each week. I would be willing to bring him to you or you could meet in our home in Charlton (Auburn line). Wages negotiable. Serious applicants only.
