Software Engineer
HCL Infosystems Ltd.

Asima Silva is an elected official for the Town of Holden as a member of the School Committee for the Wachusett Regional School District. She graduated from Worcester Polytechnic Institute with a Bachelors and Masters in Computer Science. She is a software engineer, and earned the title of IBM Master Inventor. More recently, she co-founded EnjoinGood.org to follow her passion of Outreach and Interfaith activities with local religious and educational institutions to build bridges of understanding and appreciation between communities. She co-instituted the Worcester Chapter of the Daughters of Abraham bookclub. Also, she is the Vice President of Communications for a national political organization, Muslim Caucus of America. Combining her passions and accountability as an elected official within the Wachusett District School Committee, she is championing diversity training, advocating anti-bullying policies, and promoting fiscal responsibility within the district. Due to her work, she was invited by Congressman McGovern to attend the State of the Union in 2016. Currently, she is the host of the radio and tv show, 'Perspectives', which airs on WCRN AM830 and on WCCA TV.
